
Problem of the Day for pages 6-7

The Kings and Queens School is holding a single-elimination chess tournament. If a player loses one match, he or she is eliminated from the competition. Two hundred fifty-six players have entered the tournament. How many games must be played in order to determine a champion?